

Robert Stone

Robert Stone has been a Deputy City Attorney in the San Francisco City Attorney's Office since 1996. He advises the San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency in all aspects of public works and professional services contracting and procurement. His major current projects include the insurance programs and contracts for the engineering, project management, and construction of the SFMTA's Central Subway Project, replacement of the SFMTA's radio, dispatch and vehicle location systems, and expansion and maintenance of the S.F. Municipal Railway's train control system. In addition to general government advice, Mr. Stone also advises the SFMTA in matters concerning finance and management of parking facilities, parking policies and parking tax collection, congestion management, OSHA compliance, workers compensation, and commercial property leasing. Mr. Stone has a B.A. in History from Wesleyan University and a J.D. from UC Hastings College of the Law.