Thank You for Standing Up 4 Transportation!

By joining us today you took a stand to show Congress that they need to pay attention to our national infrastructure. But it isn’t over today, the current bill expires on May 31st and we need to urge Congress to act on a long-term funding bill.

Why does long-term funding make a difference over shorter bills?

Americans spend 5.5 billion hours in traffic every year. This translates into a cost for American families of $120 billion in extra fuel and lost time. Just think how much more time and money would be lost without public transportation.

Our nation has an estimated $88 billion backlog in bus and rail projects.

Unless we make improving and expanding transportation a national priority, the problem will only get worse. More traffic, more wasted time, more money lost and a national infrastructure that falls deeper into disrepair. Just like repairs to your home or car the longer you wait to fix it, the more it will cost you.
