What is National Transit Career Day?

Join the American Public Transportation Association (APTA) in celebrating National Transit Career Day on Thursday, November 13, 2025.

This is a powerful opportunity for agencies and private and public sector organizations to partner in recruiting new talent and engaging current employees. You can highlight the exciting career paths available in public transportation for engineers, planners, marketing professionals, social media experts, operators, managers, executives, and beyond...

APTA has free resources for transit agencies, government partners, schools, private sector companies, and more.
