Car-Free Communities: Better Lifestyles by Design

Tuesday, October 1, 2024 | 4:30 – 5:30 pm PDT

Room 158, Anaheim Convention Center

Great numbers of people want to live in car-free and car-lite neighborhoods. How can developers, community planners, and public transportation providers turn aspiration into reality? Insiders will reveal how this has come to be in places such as the Culdesac neighborhood in Tempe, AZ, and how this blueprint can be considered in other communities around the country.

Moderator: Kammy Horne, AICP, Chief Executive Officer, Mpact, Austin, TX

Panelists:

- Ryan Johnson, Chief Executive Officer, Culdesac, Tempe, AZ
- David Zipper, Senior Fellow, Massachusetts Institute of Technology Mobility Initiative, and Contributing Writer, VOX, Cambridge, MA

Multimodal Corridors: Holistic Approaches to Regional Mobility

Tuesday, October 1, 2024 | 3:00 - 4:00 PM PDT

Room 159, Anaheim Convention Center

With good planning, transportation corridors can serve a multiple of purposes, including the movement of freight, transit riders, and automobile traffic. Where appropriate, streets and highways can also be serve bicycle riders and serve as places for vibrant community activities. Panelists will share their experiences with managed lanes, HOT lanes, complete streets, curb management, and how broad-based thinking can address multiple transportation planning objectives.
