Social Media Content Guidelines		Tips for using Facebook and Instagram stories: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Don't aim for perfection. Stories should be spontaneous, authentic, and imperfect, so don't spend too much time editing them.</li><li>• Give a window into what you're seeing and experiencing. Show what's going on behind the scenes to pique viewers' interest.</li><li>• Keep speed and sound in mind: People consume stories content much faster than regular post content. Use speed as a creative element to keep the attention of users. Stories with sound tend to increase the engagement results of the content. Diversify your content with voiceovers or music to add interest.</li></ul>
		Tips for taking good, selfie-style videos for Instagram and Facebook stories: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Be sure you're in an area without too much noise and decent lighting.</li><li>• Film yourself with your cellphone in a vertical position. Use the front facing camera if possible.</li><li>• At the beginning of the video, state your name and where you are from. This gives context for people who may repost or share your video story.</li></ul>
		Tips for tagging accounts on Twitter: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• After adding a photo to your tweet, tap on the "who's in this photo?" option. This will be located at the bottom side of the picture.</li><li>• Search for an account to tag in your picture. You can tag up to 10 people in a photo. When you're done, hit the "done" button and post.</li></ul> Good luck! We look forward to seeing and sharing your posts!
