Persons with Disabilities

- Report 204
Partnerships Between Transit Agencies and Transportation Network Companies
This report is designed to help transit agencies that have decided to pursue partnerships with one or more TNCs. The report provides information on where, when, and how partnerships between transit agencies and TNCs should be considered and pursued.
- Report 203
Dialysis Transportation: Intersection of Transportation and Healthcare
The report responds to major concerns of public transportation agencies about the rising demand and costs to provide kidney dialysis trips and about experiences showing these trips require service more specialized than public transportation is designed to provide.
- Report 163
Strategy Guide to Enable and Promote the Use of Fixed-Route Transit by People with Disabilities
This report is designed to help transit agencies fulfill the primary goals of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 by making mainstream fixed-route bus and rail systems accessible.
- Synthesis 142
Implementing the U.S. DOT Reasonable Modification Rule
The report describes the experiences of agencies as they make reasonable modifications to their practices and policies in order to both respond to the regulation and ensure service to people with disabilities. The report also includes case examples of six transit systems, which present an in-depth analysis of the issues, opportunities, challenges, lessons learned, and keys to success in implementation of reasonable modifications.
- Synthesis 141
Microtransit or General Public Demand-Response Transit Services: State of the Practice
This report provides an overview of the current state of the practice of transit systems that are directly providing general public demand-response or microtransit with their own vehicles and personnel or using a traditional contractor.
- Legal Research Digest 54
Impacts of the Americans with Disabilities Act on Transit Agency Liability
This report explores the types of Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) requirements and legal claims against transit agencies. This research presents an assessment of challenges in implementing the ADA from the perspective of transit operators. Additionally, this digest summarizes relevant guidance from the U.S. Federal Transit Administration.
